The Business of Relationships in Healthcare

As medical providers, we have the privilege of caring for patients and their families at some of the most exciting and vulnerable times of their lives. Come learn how to acquire an ethical, professional and caring relationship as your most important business!

Dr. Hillary Patuwo is finishing her training and serving as Chief Resident of Obstetrics & Gynecology at Houston Methodist Hospital and St. Joseph's Hospital. She received her undergraduate degree at Rice University and returned to Rice University for her Masters in Business Administration while attending medical school at Baylor College of Medicine. She also completed an internship under the VP of Operations at Houston Methodist Hospital and is the Chief Resident of Patient Safety & Quality. Hear her unique perspective on this essential aspect of the care you provide!
