

Presents

The art of failing

WEINSTEIN SPIRA

Offices of Global Financial Services
1330 Post Oak Blvd., middle building
2nd fl. Central Plains ConferenceRoom
Friday March 27, 12:00-1:00 pm

The opposite of failure is not success but stagnation. By avoiding failure, we deprive ourselves of the experimentation that is crucial to personal and professional growth. In this creative and challenging seminar, we will explore the cultural assumptions and thought processes that prevent us from taking full advantage of our failures. We will identify distinct forms of failure and learn techniques to leverage knowledge and skills from these experiences. More importantly we will set the stage for the essential practice of incorporating failure as a necessary and crucial step to eventual success.

Marie-Pierre Stien is the Director of Talent Acquisitions for Weinstein Spira & Co, a highly respected firm of Certified Public Accountants serving closely held businesses and high net-worth individuals in Houston, Texas. A professional by day and a visual artist by night, Marie-Pierre is uniquely qualified in the art of leveraging spectacular failures into engaging presentations. www.weinsteinspira.com

RSVP: Kathy McGarry 832-577-6807 - kmcgarry27@gmail.com
Light lunch provided ($5.00)