

CONVERSATIONS with WOMEN LEADERS

co-hosted by Murray Hill Institute-TX and NAWMBA, Rice Chapter

What Happened to Me Could Happen to Anyone

How I Became a White Collar Criminal

When Helen Sharkey was hired as an accountant in 1996 by Dynegy, she had no idea that job would ultimately lead to 28 days in a maximum-security federal prison. But that's exactly what happened.

Helen speaks about her experience with honesty and talks about her mistakes frankly, yet also delivers a message of hope.

- Corporate ethics and accountability
- Whistleblower responsibilities
- What NOT to do when faced with an ethical dilemma

Date: Monday, April 7, 2014
Time: 6:00-7:00 pm; wine & cheese reception
Place: Rice University, McNair Building, Rm. 317
RSVP: Kathy McGarry: kmcgarry27@gmail.com
Caitlin Weidig: cweidig@rice.edu

Murray Hill Institute-Texas is a non-profit organization dedicated to helping professional women integrate ethical standards into their personal and professional lives. The Institute affirms women in the unique role they play in promoting a more just and harmonious workplace. To learn more about Murray Hill institute, go to <http://texas.murrayhillinstitute.org>.