

MURRAY HILL INSTITUTE
presents

AN EVENING OF CONVERSATION for WOMEN IN MEDICAL PROFESSIONS

WORK-LIFE BALANCE

Balancing professional, family and other responsibilities is a challenge for any woman, but especially for women in medical professions where the work schedule is not always predictable. Although there is no ready-made formula to achieve work-life balance, hearing how other women manage their time can shed light on how to give to family and profession the time they deserve and need.

Join us for an Evening of Conversation with Sue Ann Douglas, Pediatrician and mother of seven children. Dr. Douglas will share practical advice about how to prioritize and organize one's schedule so as to maximize the time available for both work and family.

Date: Thursday, November 10, 2011

Time: 7:30-9:00 pm; wine & cheese reception
($10 good will offering)

Place: Southgate Center
1959 University Blvd.
Houston, TX 77030

RSVP: Kathy McGarry
kmcgarry27@gmail.com
713-524-9782

Murray Hill Institute (Houston Chapter) is a non-profit organization dedicated to helping professional women integrate ethical standards into their personal and professional lives. The Institute affirms women in the unique role they play in promoting a more just and harmonious workplace. To learn more about Murray Hill institute, go to www.murrayhillinstitute.org.